in the foregoing cable and is identified with it by War department officials. The explanation of the delay in the War desent it officially to Washington. Although General Chaffee's cable is dated Taku, it is assumed that it was forwarded from courier. It is assumed, however, that the field telegraph communication is interrupted and that the dispatch reached Taku E. Finner. by courier. The fact that the dispatch was sent from Taku today was extremely gratifying, as it proves that the cable between Taku and Che Foo is working and Shanghai.

General Chaffee's message contained no reference to the operations in Pekin, but this was explained on the theory that General Chaffee, as Colonel Wint's superior, was simply forwarding the latter's report. It is possible that Colonel Wint's report may have reached him over the field telegraph on the day of the engagement, August 19, and that his cable to the department may have occupied the intervening seven days, owing to the interruption of the official count of the returns of the the field telegraphs in getting back to twelfth census, is 133,859 in 1900, against would account for the failure to hear from the city as a whole an increase in popula-General Chaffee since August 19, the day tion of 27,146, or 25,44 per cent from 1890 F. Powers Make No Plans.

The United States government has not invited any government to participate in a conference with the purpose of arranging the future of China. Nor has it received any such invitation from other governments.

Negotiations that have been in prosome time involved last the dispatch of an identic of practically rather identical instructions to the United States diplomatic representatives in Europe and in Japan for their guidance in replying to inquiries that were flowing in on them daily as to the purposes of the United States government. The government itself has received many such inquiries from representatives of the powers. It is believed that these were generally informal, but, nevericy it was regarded as expedient that the the legations and the embassies here for in-

There is a very manifest desire on the part of European governments to get some expression from the United States government as to its purpose before committing themselves. It is believed that our answers have avoiding a committal of the government as to its policy beyond the points specifically laid down in the president's response to Emperor Kwang Tsu's first appeal and in the answer to Li Hung Chang's appeal for department does not regard it as expedient at this moment to make public the latest centphases of the negotiations, so it is impossible to know from this side whether or no they have touched upon propositions to divide China into spheres for military occupaernment at Pekin or to endeavor to re-establish relations with the existing dynasty in China, though it may fairly be assumed that something has been said upon these various points.

Sons of Veterans Meet.

Elequent speeches by soldiers and states men and patriotic music, vocal and instrumental, made memorable the annual meet ing of the Cook county Sons of Veterans which was held in Memorial hall tonight The beautifully decorated auditorium was packed to the doors and the distinguished speakers were enthusiastically greeted.

Commander-in-Chief Albert D. Shaw of the Grand Army of the Republic delivered spoke in part as follows:

spoke in part as follows:

The age in which our lot is east is without a parallel in the past, and the opportunities for working for good and for God, along satisfying lines of endeavor, are greater than they ever have been before. The veterans of the '69s have mainly done their work and their record during the great war will be imperishable. A country free, a union indissoluble, a Stars and Stripes beloved and honored by all our people, a common heritage of a Christian civilization and a republic first in the foremost flight of individual rights and broad justice, are the immutable foundations of our matchless nation. And as the shadows lengthen, as they face the setting sum of life, the veterans look with admiring pride upon their sons as their successors in large measure in all that insures lofty views of love of country and safe ambitions to preserve the American union in all its noblest possibilities of a wise and commanding civilization, and the true glory of Almighty God. Not all the heroes are to be found on the battlefield in wat, for in peace there is a demand for the most stalwart bravery and the most uncompromising valor. War often opens up the way for the exercise of the noblest qualities of young markoot in composing the irritations that have deluged the land in blo d. In our stay we see this view exemplified, as the former two great sections of our union have become united in a common bond of happy citizenship through the comminging influences of a common love of justice and of liberty.

The horrid hell of war has been superceded by the sweet blessings of peace, and tonight the sons of the veteraus who marched amid the sacrificed of sorrow's night of blood and agony, meet in peace and tonight the sons of the veteraus who marched amid the sacrificed of sorrow's night of blood and agony, meet in peace and tonight the sons of the veteraus who marched amid the sacrificed of sorrow's night of blood and agony, meet in peace and tonight the sons of the veteraus who marched amid the work of the aging vet citizenship and peerless in their girth and grain as ardent young Americans. I realize that the work of the aging veterans is largely over and past, and that the sons of veterans will soon be called upon to especially keep alive the fires of national patriotism when their fathers siee: the sleep that knows no waking on earth. Our future will be safe and strong just so long as our youth are worthy and wise; when these weaken or tail all will be lost. It is for the sons of veterans to lead the way in the teaching of lofty idea's of patriotism in all the circles of our youth, and so lay deep and broad the lasting foundations of justice, concord and religion, three pillars of the temple of national fame of unrivaled national safe y and glory.
